

KHATAM-UL-KHAWAJAGAN

(NAQSHBANDIYA)

Sura aal –Imraan (The Family of Imraan):

" ... and remember your Lord much and glorify Him in the evening and in the early morning."

"Those who remember Allah while standing, sitting and lying on their sides..." [3:41, 191]

Zikr polishes the heart and is the source of Divine breath that revives the dead spirits by filling them with the Blessings of Allah, decorating them with His Attributes and bringing them from a state of heedlessness to the state of complete wakefulness. If we keep busy with ZikrulAllah, happiness and peace will be granted to us. Zikr is the key to happiness, and Divine Love.

Dhikr can be done either silently or aloud. The number of repetitions is not for the sake of the account itself, but it is for securing the heart from bad thoughts and it helps to concentrate more. The number of repetitions in the Khatam is to be performed in congregation; one can set the number of repetition for individual Zikr.

(Please note that in this Khatam certain elements have been expanded to facilitate coherent understanding in English Language. Furthermore, in Supplication (Du'a) elements have been added as recited by Syed S. Zoha)
